

Sijin Syrup

Sijin Syrup is a unique antiaging, adaptogenic & herbal tonic. Sijin Syrup contains Ashwagandha which is famous for antioxidant and antiaging properties. Sijin acts as an adaptogen and immune stimulant. Sijin improves physical and mental strength, enhances sexual power and increases the production of essential enzymes and hormones. Sijin Syrup provides extra energy, makes the body strong, active and energetic. It makes happy the conjugal life by improving physical and mental strength as well as sexual ability. The important role of components of Sijin Syrup are described below- Cinnamomum zeylanicum Cinnamon bark, as part of a multi-ingredient preparation, is applied to the penis for premature ejaculation. Cinnamon might also increase blood flow. Smilax china also known as Sarsaparilla. Sarsaparilla is also used to treat impotence and general tonic for physical weakness. Santalum album is helpful for reducing inflammation caused from sexually transmitted diseases like gonorrhea. Zedoary also has antioxidant properties and is believed to internal use helps to solve sexual problems faced by men and women. Furthermore, zedoary root is also believed to strengthen the muscles of the uterus and, therefore, facilitates delivery. Since it has aphrodisiac properties, zedoary is used to treat erectile dysfunction (ED) in men. Hyoscyamus niger is very effective in treatment for male impotence. It is also used to increase sexual desire in women. The herb Myristica fragrans is beneficial for the heart as it stimulates blood circulation. Centaurea behen is effective in strengthening heart and improving memory, relieves sexual debility and thickens seminal fluid. The effect of an ethanolic extract of Salvia haematodes roots was studied on the sexual behaviour of male. The rhizomes are used in seminal weakness and general debility. Detoxifies organs, cleanses blood, aids absorption and kills bacteria.